DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's response filed on 01/08/2007 has been fully considered. Claim 1 is amended, claim 6 is canceled, claim 49 are added, and claims 1-5 and 7-49 are pending. (NOTE: Claims 15-35 are withdrawn from consideration as non-elected invention).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 36-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the specification for image free metallic layer.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant directed Examiner's attention to Fig. 1 and Fig. 2, along with page 7, lines 1-20, and claims 1-13 as originally filed to show the support for the image free metallic layer. However, above parts of the application do not show support for image free metallic layer, but the support is good enough for the metallic layer. Claims 36-48 stand rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-5, 7-14 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Otaki et al. (US 6,849,149 B2) in view of Coates (US 4,893,887).

6. Otaki discloses a laminate comprising a transparent protective layer, a hologram, transparent adhesive, recorded information, and a transparent film, in the order thereof (Fig. 10 and col. 26, line 47 thru col. 37, line 63). The transparent protective layer 206 is equivalent to the claimed protective layer, hologram 201 is equivalent to the claimed metallic layer, the transparent adhesive 205b is equivalent to the claimed adhesive layer, the transparent film 203 and the information 202 are equivalent to the claimed printable layer. The hologram further comprises colorant (col. 34, line 4), has a thickness of 0.1-50 um (col. 32, line 36). The transparent film can be made of polyethylene terephthalate or polyethylene (col. 34, line 30 and col. 32, line 46). In order to improve the writing quality, a writing layer formed by coating a coating composition with fine particles, such as silica, being incorporated therein is provided on the transparent film (col. 34, lines 53-57). The writing layer is equivalent to the claimed ink receiving layer. The transparent protective film is made of acrylic (col. 32, line 46), and has a thickness of 10-100 um (col. 32, line 43). Otaki does not teach a metal hologram. However, at the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to use a metal layer as the hologram because such use is notoriously known in the hologram transfer art (see col. 1, line 45 thru col. 2, line 51 of Coates).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's argument is based on that claim 1 has been amended to require that the printable layer include an ink-receiving layer, and such limitation is not found in the cited references. This argument is not persuasive because Otaki incorporates a writing layer on the transparent film 203 to improve the writing quality (col. 34, lines 53-57).

8. With respect to Applicant's argument regarding claim 14, the reference of Coates is combined with Otaki to teach the use of metallic hologram layer is known, not to teach the thickness of the hologram layer.

9. For the above reasons, claims 1-5 and 7-14 stand rejected, and claim 49 is included in the rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
